

Guardian Angel

© 2011 – H.B. Anderson / Mathias Holm

One second can be a lifetime and for a moment everything is changed One minute of a silent lifetime a sudden end and everything seems strange

The thought of taking responsibility over our daily life the feeling to not know and to take it all for a granted time

A Guardian Angel came by just to show himself for a while now I know I'll never walk alone where skies have fallen down and it's always my solid ground...
...my solid ground...

A fast goodbye can be a waiting so long like a desire that is out of control A destiny that's already been shown but for us it's still very unknown

When everything is on the edge and losing balance it turns the world upside down without a chance

A Guardian Angel came by
just to show himself for a while A Guardian Angel remains to watch over us and our life in pain but, I know I'll never be on my own I've got a love so true and pure from now on and forevermore...

...forever and ever...forevermore...
...forever and ever...forevermore...
...forever and ever...forevermore...
...forever and ever...forevermore...
